This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFATORY REMARKS.

THE rapid advancement and expansion of the business of breeding trotting-horses and the now prosperous condition of that interest find reflex in each successive volume of the Register following faster upon its predecessor. Of course the Register must keep pace with the volume of pedigrees contributed, and the increased production of trotting-bred horses has now reached a point where the publication of a large volume annually seems imperative. Volume I was published in 1871, Volume II in 1874, and Volume III in 1879; and in these three books were collected upwards of 10,000 pedigrees. Then came the most important step in the history of the breeding business—the adoption by the National Association of Trotting-Horse Breeders of the standard. The compilation of Volume IV, the first under the standard, involved bringing forward all animals recorded in previous volumes that met the requirements of the standard.

The system of numbering standard stallions was then adopted, and in 1882 Volume IV was issued, containing upwards of 6,000 pedigrees, of which 2,031 were standard stallions. Volume V followed in 1885, containing 5,140 pedigrees, and Volume VI in 1887, with 5,980 pedigrees, the latter bringing the number of standard stallions up to 5,611. Though the present volume follows closer upon the heels of its predecessor than did any other, and although it has no non-standard stallions, it contains more pedigrees than any previous volume, and its department of standard stallions ends with the number 9,086.

With the opening of this volume I inaugurated a department of Transfers. This, for the reason that it increased the work and expense on the Register materially, was perhaps deferred too long, but it at last became a necessity, and appears in this volume, incorporated with the department of Corrections.

The tendency, especially among new beginners and small breeders, to call their colts by names borrowed and compounded from those of famous ancestors, became so serious a nuisance that the Board of Censors adopted a rule to prevent, as far as possible, the designation of stallion colts by these borrowed and misleading names. This rule has been enforced in Volume VII, has worked admirably, and hence the nomenclature of this book is an improvement over that of previous volumes.

The Tables of Records heretofore given in the Register have been discontinued, for the reason that they have become too bulky to handle in these volumes; and, further, because they properly belong to the Year-Book, an annual volume designed especially for statistics of performances.

With the close of Volume VI there arose considerable agitation looking to a revision of the standard. It was felt by the more advanced breeders that the time had arrived when, consistently with the progress made in breeding, the standard should be raised by cutting off some of its weaker rules and strengthening others. The enormous and rapidly-increasing numbers of stallion-colts having only one standard cross on the side of the dam, or 75 per cent. of standard trotting-blood, that were being flooded into the Register under Rule 7 became a source of weakness, and indeed a menace to the whole standard, and it was urged that this rule especially called for strengthening provisions; but as the public had not received notice of any intended change, action was then deferred by the Breeders' Association, and Volume VII was compiled under the original standard.

At the meeting of the National Association of Trotting-Horse Breeders held in this city December 14, 1887, this needed revision of the standard was consummated. It will be seen that under the revised rules entire colts can only come in under Rule 6—that is, their dams as well as their sires must be standard, and the colts must carry 87½ per cent. of standard trotting-blood. Records slower than 2:35 no longer assist in conferring standard rank, and the weak provisions of Rules 1, 4 and 9, reaching back to the blood of grandsires and grandams to give standard rank, have been cut off. The present standard, under which Volume VIII is being prepared, is given following these remarks; and as the present volume was compiled under the original standard, the latter is also reproduced.

Considering the changes and restrictions forced upon us by the requirements of this rapidly-advancing industry of breeding the trotter, the work on the Register goes on smoothly, satisfactorily and with little friction. Though these changes and restrictions have caused some little dissatisfaction, principally among small breeders who have not aimed at a high standard of blood, they are undoubtedly indorsed by public opinion as tending to the ultimate welfare of the whole breeding interest.

JOHN H. WALLACE.

BOARD OF CENSORS' CERTIFICATE.

This is to certify that we have had supervision of the Standard Department of this volume during its compilation, and have rendered such assistance as was in our power. The rules of the standard have been honestly applied; and, while we do not claim that the work is entirely free from errors, we believe it to be as nearly correct as a work of this very difficult nature can be made.

THE STANDARD.

[As Revised and Adopted by the National Association of Trotting-Horse Breeders, December 14, 1887.]

In order to define what constitutes a trotting-bred horse and to establish a BREED of trotters on a more intelligent basis, the following rules are adopted to control admission to the records of pedigrees. When an animal meets the requirements of admission and is duly registered, it shall be accepted as a standard trotting-bred animal:

First.—Any stallion that has himself a record of two minutes and thirty seconds (2:30) or better, provided any of his get has a record of 2:35 or better, or provided his sire or his dam is already a standard animal.

Second.—Any mare or gelding that has a record of 2:30 or better.

Third.—Any horse that is the sire of two animals with a record of 2:30 or better.

Fourth.—Any horse that is the sire of one animal with a record of 2:30 or better, provided he has either of the following additional qualifications: (1) A record himself of 2:35 or better. (2) Is the sire of two other animals with a record of 2:35 or better. (3) Has a sire or dam that is already a standard animal.

Fifth.—Any mare that has produced an animal with a record of 2:30 or better.

Sixth.—The progeny of a standard horse when out of a standard mare.

Seventh.—The female progeny of a standard horse when out of a mare by a standard horse.

Eighth.—The female progeny of a standard horse when out of a mare whose dam is a standard mare.

Ninth.—Any mare that has a record of 2:35 or better, and whose sire or dam is a standard animal.

[The Former Standard, as Originally Established by the National Association of Trotting-Horse Breeders, November 19, 1879, under which Volumes IV, V, VI and VII of the Trotting Register were compiled.]

In order to define what constitutes a trotting-bred horse and to establish a BREED of trotters on a more intelligent basis, the following rules are adopted to control admission to the records of pedigrees. When an animal meets the requirements of admission and is duly registered, it shall be accepted as a standard trotting-bred animal

First.—Any stallion that has himself a record of two minutes and thirty seconds (2:30) or better, provided any of his get has a record of 2:40 or better, or provided his sire or his dam, his grandsire or his grandam, is already a standard animal.

Second.—Any mare or gelding that has a record of 2:30 or better.

Third.—Any horse that is the sire of two animals with a record of 2:30 or better.

Fourth.—Any horse that is the sire of one animal with a record of 2:30 or better, provided he has either of the following additional qualifications: (1) A record himself of 2:40 or better. (2) Is the sire of two other animals with a record of 2:40 or better. (3) Has a sire or dam, grandsire or grandam, that is already a standard animal.

Fifth.—Any mare that has produced an animal with a record of 2:30 or better.

Sixth.—The progeny of a standard horse when out of a standard mare.

Seventh.—The progeny of a standard horse out of a mare by a standard horse.

Eighth.—The progeny of a standard horse when out of a mare whose dam is a standard mare.

Ninth.—Any mare that has a record of 2:40 or better, and whose sire or dam, grandsire or grandam, is a standard animal.

Tenth.—A record to wagon of 2:35 or better shall be regarded as equal to a 2:30 record.

NATURE OF EVIDENCE REQUIRED.

IT is not possible to define just what will be accepted as satisfactory evidence of the truthfulness of a pedigree. As a rule, affidavits are of no value, for they are generally based upon hearsay and not upon personal knowledge. The chief difficulty, as developed by experience, has been in the remote extensions. On this point the action of the Breeders' Association has been very emphatic, and is as follows:

Resolved, That while it is not possible to lay down a hard-and-fast rule that will apply in all cases, yet as a general rule, and one that will apply in most cases, it shall be obligatory upon each contributor of a pedigree to give the name of the breeder and establish the identity of each cross by such reasonable evidence as may be satisfactory to the Board of Censors. At the point where the address of the breeder cannot be given, and where the identity of the animal cannot be historically established to the Board of Censors, all pedigrees shall be cut off.

ABUSES OF NAMES.

NEXT to the dishonest purpose of borrowing strains of blood that do not belong in a pedigree comes the approximately dishonest practice of borrowing the names of great ancestors. In both cases there is a species of deception with the single object of enhancing values beyond the measure of real merit. This practice of borrowing, compounding, and duplicating names became such a nuisance that the Board of Censors was at last driven to the adoption of the following rule, which will be enforced in the compilation of future volumes:

Resolved, That every stallion and colt entire should be registered under a name distinctively his own, and that the name of a distinguished ancestor or sire, or any material part thereof, should not be repeated in any form when naming animals further removed than the immediate progeny of such ancestor or sire.

[NOTE.—When a horse starts in a race, he can claim the name under which he started.]

Conditions of Admission to Non-Standard Department of Vol. VIII.

FIRST.—Stallion colts that would have been standard under the old rules, but are not now standard.

SECOND.—Mares and geldings by standard horses.

THIRD.—Pacers of all sexes that would be eligible to standard rank if their records were trotting instead of pacing.

FOURTH.—All sires of two or more dams that have produced a 2:30 trotter.

FIFTH.—Animals that are historical and worthy of preservation.
